Update on November Events

BCA Virtual Author Visit—Inspiring is the best word to describe Lois Brandt's presentation to our Kindergarteners, 1st graders, and 2nd graders!! Ms. Brandt shared in a way that was easy for students to understand. The phrase that she left with the students was that stories come from events that "get stuck in your head". This is a wonderful image that students can remember. I enjoyed reading all of the thank you cards before I forwarded them on to Ms. Brandt. Thanks to our parent association for funding this event!!

Scholastic Book Fair—Teachers, staff and students alike enjoyed our on-campus "contactless" Scholastic Book Fair. The library was filled with the excitement of students as they browsed through the many cases of books. That enthusiasm was contagious as students talked about different books. All of the students were very principled as they looked at, but did not touch the books. At the same time, our remote students were able to join in the fun through the online Scholastic Book Fair. In addition, this was the first time that our Satellite campus hosted a book fair.

The total sales through our on-campus and online book fair was over $4,000.00!! A big 'thank you' to everyone for making this a very successful November event. The school can now use the Scholastic Dollars we earned through the sales to purchase books.

. Our next virtual author visit will be in the month of February. Local author, Laurie Thompson, will share with our 3rd, 4th and 5th graders. She is the author of several non-fiction books. Her presentation will focus on how to determine the credibility of information.
