Scholastic Book Fair

Spring is here and with it comes our Scholastic Book Fair with its 'Buy One, Get One Free' offer. The fair will be run just like our November book fair with both online and on-campus shopping available. Our on-campus fair will be a 'contactless' fair where students make wish lists and then use the e-wallet feature to purchase the books they want. More details will be coming very soon.

Toni Yuly, a local author, will visit our Satellite campus to share her writing and illustrations with the students.

Beverly Cleary—Celebrated Author

This year, we lost an incredibly gifted author of children's literature, Beverly Cleary. She lived to be 104 years old! Beverly Cleary struggled as a beginning reader, but she grew to love reading. A librarian suggested that she become an author when she grew up and that is exactly what she did, writing books that were about regular children and their lives. When asked where her ideas came from for her many books, her answer was from her own life experiences. Beverly Cleary was an incredibly gifted author with a string of awards. The most treasured awards to her were the 35 state awards her books won from reader's votes. "In honor of her achievements, she was named a Living Legend by the Library of Congress." (<https://www.beverlycleary.com/>) I recommend that you check out Ms. Cleary's numerous books and find out what made her a "Living Legend". I guarantee you will enjoy the journey.

Thank You Parent Association

One of the joys of being a librarian is inviting local authors to inspire our students. Thanks to the Parent Association we have sponsored three author visits this year! In October, Lois Brandt shared her passion for community with grades K-2. Laurie Ann Thompson taught grades 3—5 about the importance of reading critically. This month, Toni Yuly will share her writing and her art with the Satellite students. Visiting authors are a great way for us to enrich the education of our students. So, a BIG THANK YOU to the Parent Association. . . we could not do it without you.
